Proper Packaging of Specimens

The head/animal should be contained within two intact plastic bags. The bags should be sealed individually (Ziploc, twist tie, tape, etc.). Place the bagged specimen in a solid-sided styrofoam cooler along with enough ice packs to preserve the specimen until delivery. Note: Please do not use frozen water ice or dry ice – frozen gel packs only! A copy of the submission form should be included inside the box contained in a separate plastic bag. The cooler should be placed in a well-fitting cardboard box. The box should be taped securely closed with the address label on top.
